Letter to the Editor

Received this from Jake Chichilitti,

Hi Brian, I just finished building an old timer. It's called the Record Wrecker, designed in the early forties (pre-war). As you can see it's a rubber powered FF model. I will attempt to trim and test fly. I never did have much luck with rubber FF. I'm guessing I won the kit at a SAM 21 raffle. I hope all is well with you and your family. Jake

Jake, thank you for the submission.

Servo Arms Tester/ Finder

Ever tired of finding the correct brand of servo arms to fit your servo from a box of servo arms? And each manufacturer has their own sizes and dimensions. And they would not fit the other brands. So I made this servo wheel/arm finder from some old broken servo gears. Add a label to identify each one to the manufacturer. Now all you need to do is test fit them with the tester and find out which brand of servo will the arm fit!
